ENCHANTED: FOREST OF LIGHT

DESCANSO GARDENS,
LA CAÑADA

UNTIL JANUARY 8, 2017

Descanso Gardens' inaugural light-up experience has ditched the kitsch in favor of a whimsical, wondrous, curiosity-driven display that's among L.A.'s most stunning and, more importantly, most fun. The interactive, nighttime program has set up eight illuminated installations around the botanical garden grounds, from luminescent forests to free-standing hands-on art pieces. ## LA ART SHOW

LOS ANGELES CONVENTION
CENTER, DOWNTOWN

JANUARY 11, 2017 - JANUARY 15, 2017

The Los Angeles Art Show is the longest running venue for contemporary, modern, historic and traditional art in the country—there's something for everyone here, from art history majors to avant-garde gallery owners. The show is broadly divided into Modern & Contemporary and Traditional Contemporary sections. The event will feature top galleries and programming, including lectures, tours, special exhibits, and after-parties, and beginning with a benefit opening night premiere party on January 11. <http://www.laartshow.com/>

UNCORKED WINE FESTIVAL

UNION STATION, DOWNTOWN

JANUARY 21, 2017

Fifty wineries, food trucks, music and a beautiful setting—sounds like a perfect Saturday to us. Uncorked Wine Fest returns to Union Station on January 21, sending wine fiends into a frenzy with over 50 wineries offering their best varietals. There will also be a Champagne wine bar, an international wine market and a blind tasting bar to kickstart your wine education. General admission will be able to sip from 6-9pm, while VIP gets an extra hour to imbibe starting at 5pm. <http://uncorkedwinefestivals.com/>

NIGHT ON BROADWAY

VARIOUS LOCATIONS, LOS ANGELES

JANUARY 28, 2017

Need any more convincing that Broadway is back? How about a cultural festival spanning seven of Downtown's historic theaters and movie palaces. All of the venues will open their doors for free during Night on Broadway to host performances and installations. Outside the theaters, there's a street festival between 4th and 7th with shopping pop-ups, a family-friendly kids area and a music main stage. <http://nightonbroadway.la/>

POST PARADE: A SHOWCASE OF FLOATS PRESENTED BY MIRACLE-GRO

SIERRA MADRE BOULEVARD & E. WASHINGTON BOULEVARD, PASADENA

JANUARY 2, 2017 - JANUARY 3, 2017

No need to camp out in the cold to see the 128th annual Rose Parade firsthand this New Year's Day. Instead, watch the LA tradition from home and mosey on over to Sierra Madre Boulevard and Washington Street in Pasadena to view the floats post-parade. Once the crowds have died down, view the floats close up. The stunning float showcase is a unique opportunity to see the intricate floral handiwork in person, from just a few feet away.
